BEE-KEEPING LECTURE ADDED TO INSTITUTE

EXPERT FROM UNITED STATES DEPT. WILL LECTURE AT AMBOY.

An additional feature which it is thought will attract a great deal of interest in Lee county, has been secured for the Lee County Farmers' Institute, which begins a three-day session in Amboy tomorrow, in a lecture on Bee Keeping to be given tomorrow morning by P. W. Erbaugh, an expert from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Prof. Erbaugh will give the latest information on methods and operation that will greatly increase the production of honey. With the present shortage of sugar the great need for honey is appreciated among those who have the nation's welfare at heart. The possibilities for the industry were never better, and at present prices bee keepers should put forth every effort to bring the production to the highest possible point.

KAISER REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE COUNCIL

Will Not Deal With the Present Russian Regime.

EXPECT REPLY SOON

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Petrograd, Sunday, Nov. 18 (Delayed).—Germany has refused to treat for peace with the new Soldiers and Workmen's government in response to a recent proposal, according to the newspapers here.

It is stated that Emperor William announced in his reply that he would treat only with the legal successor to the imperial government power or with the constituent assembly.

In this connection Volia Noroda says it has information that the Soldiers and Workmen's government, in the event of its failure to receive replies from the belligerents by November 23, reserves the right to make peace on its own account, after which, if the war continues, Russia will occupy a neutral position.

NO WORD FROM RUSS ARMY'S HEADQUARTERS.

London, Nov. 19.—A wireless dispatch from Petrograd makes the customary announcement that there has been no communication received from army headquarters.

ROADS WILL LOOK TO WILSON FOR SUCCOR

WILL TURN PROPERTIES OVER TO HIM FOR OPERATION.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Nov. 19.—Formal announcement was made today that the railroads of the United States have decided that if any crisis should arise they will place their interests in the hands of President Wilson for protection and such disposition as he may deem necessary to prevent further interruption during the war.

The four railroad brotherhoods, who have made demands for increased wages, have agreed to mediation of all the disputes, but have refused a proposal of an unconditional surrender of the question to a board of arbitration.

DIXON MAN'S BROTHER DIES

Rev. John W. Cortwright of Erie, Ill., died Saturday morning at the age of 80 years, after an illness of but a few hours. He was a brother of E. D. Cortwright of Plano, Ill.; J. R. Cortright of Shenandoah, Iowa; R. P. Cortright, P. S. Cortright and N. A. Cortright of this city. He was a sergeant in the Twelfth Illinois Cavalry and had been a minister in the Brethren church for twenty years, but for the past two years had been retired. He made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Laura Perkins. The funeral was held today at 2 p. m. at the daughter's home, with burial in the Erie cemetery.

Beginning at 5 o'clock and continuing until 10 o'clock, requiem mass was celebrated every half hour. All business was suspended. At least two hours before the time set for the funeral the people began assembling in the streets of Harmon were crowded. Slowly the people filed into the church to look once

GALENA MAN HELD AT BAY BY SEVEN WOLVES

THRILLING EXPERIENCE WAS TOLD BY FARMER THIS WEEK.

Galena, Ill., Nov. 17.—Paul Altillisch of Elizabeth township was in Galena and received bounty and mileage for a fox and a wolf pelt at the court house. Mr. Altillisch had an experience while wolf hunting that would make a western novel look tame and would be exciting enough to raise the hair on the head of any wideawake American lad, or his elders.

Mr. Altillisch owns a wolf dog and while out hunting one day the latter part of last week his dog disappeared for quite a time; then he heard him coming and instead of stopping when he got to his master the dog rushed howling past. Close behind the canine came a pack of seven snapping, snarling and yelping wolves. There was no time to lose and Mr. Altillisch killed the leader of the pack, but only had three shells left. He was in a tight place and if he shot and wounded one the rest of the pack would attack and probably kill him. He dared not move and did not even venture to pick up the body of the one he had killed. Finally the wolves retreated and he returned to his home.

The dog's hide was ripped open from his neck to his tail and the bones in his tail were broken. Mr. Altillisch had the dog's wounds sewed up and the animal is still alive.

BAR ASSN. WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

Attorney Henry C. Warner has called a meeting of the Lee County Bar association, of which he is president, to be held in the circuit court room at the court house Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The election of officers will be the feature of the meeting.

The meeting opened at 2:30 p. m. and continued until 10 o'clock. One hundred were initiated into the lodge preceding a big banquet, at which interesting speeches were made by many prominent men. The Honorable Judge Scully of Chicago presided.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS

A Proclamation

The President of the United States has designated Thursday, November 29, 1917, as Thanksgiving Day.

In pursuance of the proclamation of the President, I, Frank O. Lowden, Governor of Illinois, do hereby urge our citizens to observe that day as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. I ask that our people assemble in places of public worship, and there render thanks to Almighty God for the preservation of our liberties in all our past, and invoke His guidance through the great perils which now beset us.

There are many things for which we should give thanks even though we are in the grip of a world-wide war.

We should give thanks that our people have come to realize, while yet there is time, the calamity that threatens our civilization. Our young manhood has shown its loyalty and worth. Our training camps, north and south and east and west, proclaim that we know what our liberties are worth and are willing to fight for them—aye, to die for them if need be.

Our people are giving generously of their wealth to that government of equal opportunity under which their wealth was won, in order that equal opportunity may be preserved for those who shall come after them. Our people are united as they never were before. Class distinctions are breaking down. New spiritual forces are coming into our lives. In the death grapple of two ideas for the mastery of the world, littleness and selfishness are falling away.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of State at the Capitol in Springfield, this fourteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-second.

FRANK O. LOWDEN.

By the Governor: Louis L. Emmerson, Secretary of State.

MUST GET EATS TO CLUB EARLY

The ladies committee in charge of the scramble supper, card party and dance at the Elks club tomorrow evening, this afternoon issued a statement requesting every one who intends going to the affair to have their "eats" at the club by 5:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, as the preparation for the big meal for more than 300 people will require some time. It is also announced that the affair is for Elks and their ladies only, the assured big attendance making it impossible to take care of the children. Progressive 500 will be the game of the evening.

EAST GROVE REGISTRATION

Eighty patriotic ladies registered in East Grove township. The first to register was Mrs. Jennie Knauts. Of the number, four expressed themselves as willing to go anywhere, a good many limited this to anywhere in the United States, but most confined themselves to a desire to do what work they could for the government in their home town. There are about fifty ladies in the township who did not register. Mrs. Homer Parsons was chairman of registration.

Wm. Bardwell is assisting in the V. & O. store evenings.

DIXON VICTORIOUS IN FINE GAME WITH SPRING VALLEY HIGH

Defeated Coal Miners Saturday by the Score of 28 to 6.

FUMBLES MAR GAME

Spring Valley Backs Had Hard Time Keeping Ball.

Dixon Union High School football team won an easy victory over Spring Valley high at Spring Valley Saturday afternoon, the score, 28 to 6, being a demonstration of the respective strength and ability of the teams. Dixon won the toss and Capt. Whitcombe chose the west goal, Spring Valley kicking off to Dixon, who returned the ball to the 40 yard line. On a pass to Schrock Dixon lost the ball on the 60 yard line, but Dixon's line held and the coal miners were forced to put to Dixon, who again returned the ball to the 40 yard line. Schuler made 15 yards on an end run and on a forward pass to Hess another 15 was gained from which point Hess was sent over for the first touchdown. Schuler kicked goal. The score: Dixon, 7; Spring Valley, 0.

CONCUSSION OF BRAIN IN FALL FROM CAR

Harry Beckingham Victim of Accident Saturday Evening.

INJURY IS NOT FATAL

Harry Beckingham, 509 Armedia street, North Dixon, suffered a severe concussion of the brain when he stepped off the incoming interurban car near First avenue, North Dixon, at 10 o'clock Saturday night. At the Dixon hospital, where he was taken by Chief Van Bibber and Officer Seagren in the police ambulance, it was reported this afternoon he was resting well, and it is not believed the injury will prove fatal.

The young man, when he got on the car at Sterling, told Conductor Andrews to call him at First avenue, Dixon, and it is believed he was sleeping soundly when the Dixon street was called, for he arose hurriedly, rushed to the rear vestibule, and, although the car was just slowing up for the street, walked out into space before Mr. Andrews could seize him. He did not walk down the car steps, but stepped directly out from the vestibule platform.

He was thrown heavily to the brick pavement and struck the back of his head a terrific blow. The police ambulance was at once called and the young man was rushed to the hospital, where surgeons, after examining a bad gash cut in the scalp, announced there was no fracture but that severe concussion had resulted.

Mr. Beckingham did not regain consciousness until 3 o'clock Sunday morning, and at intervals since that time has suffered periods of coma.

BRITISH COMMANDER IN EAST IS DEAD

GENERAL MAUDE VICTIM OF ILLNESS SUNDAY EVENING.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) London, Nov. 19.—Gen. Frederick Stanley Maude, British commander in Mesopotamia, died yesterday. An official statement says he died in Mesopotamia yesterday evening after a brief illness.

General Maude was 53 years old. He had a distinguished military record before the war.

Issues Of Great War Will Be Decided in Washington And By Furnaces Of U. S.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Nov. 19.—Russia's collapse and the unreadiness of the U. S. makes hopeless any thoughts of peace before 1919 in the opinion of Medill McCormick, congressman at large of Illinois, who has just returned from a visit to most of the important fronts of the European battle line.

Mr. McCormick said: "The Germans are not winning the war. Neither are we.

Nowhere in Europe did I find an informed soldier or public man who believed a military decision could be achieved before 1919, when the United States might be ready to add effectively to the sum of pressure on the central empires. Perhaps economic conditions or political events in Germany may induce peace before that time, but although Germany is suffering progressively more than her western enemies, her autocratic machine and her economic reserves together seem adequate to hold her together two more winters. There is practically no hope that Russia can be in any sense useful during the year 1918. From the most responsible people I heard a disheartening tale of Russian inefficiency, corruption, incendiarism and murder. Russia is so disordered that she cannot make war.

Happily, probably, neither can Russia make peace. Germany might propose concessions and incitements in the west and to recoup herself in the east. What would the European democracies do under these circumstances? The principal public men with whom I talked were not certain and were not all agreed upon the answer to that question. Some, who personally would oppose such terms, believe that European public opinion would demand their acceptance, although that would involve an addition of thirty million Poles, Lithuanians and Livonians to the population of the Teutonic empires, as well as the industrial resources and the great alluvial plain of Poland. The German autocracy would be forfeited.

With a wonderful energy, with a foresight which compels admiration, the autocracy has mobilized the power of Germany—children, women and men, food and clothing, metals and fuels.

The German military machine first made ready, and of course, as the neutral markets have been closed tighter and tighter with the tightening of the blockade, the resources of the central powers have been energetically sent. They are bleeding terribly and showing a steady diminution in man power and materials as compared to their French and English adversaries and this in spite of the Russian collapse. But since the German high command controls all the central powers from the Bosphorus to the Baltic, they act with greater energy, unity

SUICIDE'S BODY NOT RECOVERED FROM THE RIVER

Thorough Search Has Failed to Find Remains.

NO WILL IS YET FOUND

Attorneys Cannot Proceed Until the Body Is Found.

Despite a continued search for the body of Bryant Barber, the wealthy Polo banker who suicided by jumping from the Grand Detour bridge into the swirling waters of Rock river Friday evening, a search in which scores have participated, the body had not been found up to a short time before press time today. It is believed the heavy fur overcoat which Mr. Barber wore when he took his life, now thoroughly soaked with water, is making the search for his remains more difficult.

Sunday the scene of the suicide was a mecca for hundreds of people, many of whom aided in the effort to find the body, and the banks of the river were thoroughly gone over for several miles below the bridge.

No New Developments.

There have been no new developments in the tragedy. Word from Polo today to the effect that a search of Mr. Barber's papers thus far failed to disclose a will and, accordingly, inasmuch as the recovery of his body is absolutely essential to establish his death, attorneys are unable to take any steps toward the appointment of an administrator of his estate.

His aged mother, according to word from Polo today, is bearing up surprisingly well under the shock.

POLO AUTO CAUGHT FIRE ON THE ROAD

CHEMICAL FROM DIXON FIRE DEPARTMENT SAVED OVERLAND CAR.

An Overland automobile, owned by Herman Frye of Polo, was saved from destruction by fire at 10 o'clock Sunday morning by a chemical apparatus from the Dixon fire department, sent to the burning car north of the city limits on Galena avenue, in response to a telephone call. The gasoline pipe on the car had broken, causing it to burst into flames, and but for a prompt and speedy trip by Officer Seagren in the police patrol, the machine would have been totally destroyed. Fortunately the blaze was extinguished before any great damage had been done.

CATHOLIC BAZAR WAS BIG SUCCESS

With the largest Saturday night crowd of several years the St. Patrick's Catholic church bazar at Rosbrook hall came to a remarkably successful and happy close. Throughout the entire evening the dance floor was crowded to capacity and all the booths did a land-office business. The committee of young people in charge of the fair extend their thanks to every patron.

Sho that has immediate and will be to the district classification.

The text of the secretary of war's order to draft into immediate service any man qualified for such duty, no matter what his position or his order number is, is touched in the widest and most far-reaching manner.

The deferred classification of men highly skilled in industry or agriculture is intended to prevent the waste incident to immediately military service of men whose special qualifications render them more valuable to the national interest in some other capacity.

War Need Can Reverse Plan.
There are, however, circumstances in which the need of the military establishment for expert men is such that the national interest is better served by inducing such men into military service than by leaving them engaged in industry or agriculture. In such circumstances neither deferred classification nor the ground of engagement in industry for agriculture or the order numbers heretofore assigned by lot can be permitted to defer the call of such men into military service.

The provost marshal general made clear today that because the new regulations provide that men not completely crippled may be held subject for special army service, and will not be exempted, this does not mean that the army proposes to fill up its ranks behind the lines and on routes of communication with nondescript men.

Such men will be put practically in a special class, and can be called only under a special and specific summons for men disqualified for general military service, but qualified for special service.

Would Admit Minor Defects.
This ruling applies to thousands of men suffering from flat feet, and all minor deformities which would disqualify them from field service, but which would not interfere with them operating any motor cars and such other work, or on line of communication duty. It also applies to men of other weight, or whose health would render them unavailable in hard weather.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Marthy, low-browed, uncombed, harsh of voice and speech and nature, with her shiftless husband Jase, journey over desert trail, driving four oxen and are the pioneers whose hardihood won first fords the Wolverine stream. Jase is ready to stop at the first green spot, but Marthy insists on plodding along another full day's journey. That night, through natural instinct, two of the oxen stray into a narrow gorge and feast on the rich grasses of the Cove, where they are found by Marthy who recognizes the little, hidden Eden as the place of her dreams and the pioneers at once take possession. Later they are joined by an older couple who are impressed with the Wolverine and also establish a home. To them is born a daughter, christened Billy Louise.

CHAPTER II—After a visit to Marthy, Billy Louise on her horse Blue reaches home late, in a snow storm, having met a stranger riding over the same trail. He is invited to stop for the night and is welcomed by Billy Louise's mother. Introduces himself as Ward Warren who has a claim on Mill Creek.

CHAPTER III—Marthy is horrified to find that Jase has died during the night. Digging a grave in a level place above the main ditch, she wheels Jase's body on the home-made wheelbarrow and buries her dead. Charlie Fox, her nephew arrives.

CHAPTER IV—Fox rides to Billy Louise's ranch to inquire if she has seen anything of four of their calves which disappeared; theft is discussed, and Billy Louise starts in search.

That night took its toll of Billy Louise and left a seared place in her memory. It was a night of snapping fire in the cook stove that hot water might be always ready; of tireless struggle with the pain that came and tortured, retired sullenly from Billy Louise's stubborn fighting with poultices and turpentine cloths and every hotly remedy she had ever heard of, and came again just when she thought she had won the fight.

There was no time to give thought to the trouble that had ridden home with her, though its presence was like a black shadow behind her while she worked and went to and fro between bedroom and kitchen and fought that tearing pain.

She met the dawn hollow eyed and so tired she could not worry very much about anything. Her mother slept uneasily to prove that the battle had not gone altogether against the girl who had fought the night through. She had her reward in full measure when the doctor came, in the heat of noon, and after terrible minutes of suspense for Billy Louise while he counted pulse and took temperature and studied symptoms, told her that she had done well and that she and her homely poultices had held back tragedy from that house.

Billy Louise lay down upon the couch out on the back porch and slept heavily for three hours, while Phoebe and the doctor watched over her mother.

She woke with a start. She had been dreaming, and the dream had taken from her cheeks what little color her night vigil had left. She had dreamed that Ward was in danger, that men were hunting him for what he had done at that corral. The corral seemed the center of a fight between Ward and the men. She dreamed that he came to her and that she must hide him away and save him. But though she took him to a cave, which was secret enough for her purpose, yet she could not feel that he was safe even there. There was something—some menace.

Billy Louise went softly into the house, tiptoed to the door of her mother's room and saw that she lay quiet, with her eyes closed. Beside the window the doctor sat with his spectacles far down toward the end of his nose, reading a pale green pamphlet that he must have brought in his pocket. Phoebe was down by the creek washing clothes in the shade of a willow clump.

She went into her own room, still walking on her toes. In her trunk was a blue plush box of the kind that is given to one at Christmas. It was faded and the clasp was showing brass at the edges. Sitting upon her bed with the box in her lap Billy Louise pawed hastily in the jumble of keepsakes it held; an eagle's claw which she meant some time to have mounted for a brooch; three or four arrowheads of the shiny, black stuff which the Indians were said to have brought from Yellowstone park; a knot of green ribbon which she had worn to a St. Patrick's day dance in Boise; rattlesnake rattles of all sizes; several folded clippings—verses that had caught her fancy and had been put away and forgotten; an amber bead she had found once. She turned the box upside down in her lap and shook it. It must be there—the thing she sought, the thing that had troubled her most in her dream; the thing that was a menace while it existed. It was at the very bottom of the box, caught in a corner. She took it out with fingers that trembled, crumpled it into a little ball so that she could not read what it said, straightened it immediately and read it reluctantly from the beginning to the end, where the last word was clipped short with hasty scissors. A paragraph cut from a newspaper it was; yellow and frayed from contact with other objects, telling of things—

Billy Louise bit her lips until they hurt, but she could not keep back the tears that came hot and stinging while she read. She slid the little heap of odds and ends to the middle of the bed, crushed the clipping into her palm and went out stealthily into the immaculate kitchen. As if she were being spied upon she went cautiously to the stove, lifted a lid and dropped the clipping in where the wood blazed the brightest. She watched it flare and become nothing—not even a pinch of ash; the clipping was not very large. When it was gone she put the lid back and went tiptoeing to the door. Then she ran.

Phoebe was down by the creek, so Billy Louise went to the stable, through that and on beyond, still running. Farther down was a grassy nook—on beyond the road. She went there and hid behind the willows, where she could cry and no one be the wiser. But she could not cry the ache out of her heart nor the rebellion against the hurt that life had given her. If she could only have burned memory when she burned that clipping! She could still believe and be happy if only she could forget the things it said.

Phoebe called her after a long while had passed. Billy Louise bathed her face in the cold water of the Wolverine, used her handkerchief for a towel and went back to take up the duties life had laid upon her. The doctor's team was hitched to the light buggy he drove, and the doctor was standing in the doorway with his square medicine case in his hand waiting to give her a few final directions before he left.

He was like so many doctors—he seemed to be afraid to tell the whole truth about his patient. He stuck to evasive optimism and then neutralized the reassurances he uttered by emphasizing the necessity of being notified if Mrs. MacDonald showed any symptoms of another attack.

Billy Louise ran into her own room, grabbed a can of talcum and did not wait to see whether she applied it evenly to her telltale eyelids, but dabbed at them on the way to her mother's room.

"Doctor says you're all right, mommie; only you mustn't go digging post holes or shoveling hay for awhile."

"No, I guess not!" Her mother responded unconsciously to the stimulation of Billy Louise's tone. "I couldn't dig holes with a teaspoon, I'm that weak and useless. Did he say what it was, Billy Louise?" The sick are always so curious about their illnesses.

"Oh, your lumbago got to scrapping with your liver. I forgot the name he gave it, but it's nothing to worry about," Billy Louise had imagination, remember.

"I guess he'd think it was something to worry about if he had it," her mother retorted fretfully, but reassured nevertheless by the casual manner of Billy Louise. "I believe I could eat a little mite of toast and drink some tea," she added tentatively.

"And an egg poached soft if you want it, mom. Phoebe just brought in the eggs." Billy Louise went out humming unconcernedly under her breath as if she had not a care beyond the proper toasting of the bread and brewing of the tea.

One need not go to war or voyage to the far corners of the earth to find the stuff heroes are made of.

The National Capital.

The site of Washington city as the national capital was selected in 1791, the corner stone of the capitol was laid in 1793 and congress met there for the first time in November, 1800. Prior to that congress had met at Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Lancaster, York, Princeton, Annapolis and Trenton.

HIGH POSTAGE BENEFITS.

The grief felt by the Marquette Mining Journal over three-cent postage is mitigated by the reflection that certain matter heretofore cluttering up its mail will be missing from now on. For instance:

"Circulars from the railroads telling why they are so awful poor, and must have higher rates or perish;

"Requests to forge a link in a system of 'chain letters';

"Propaganda of societies for the amelioration of the hardships of town cats, protection of sheepskin bindings and the suppression of motorcycle joy-riding."

The Pocahontas Tribune is no less philosophical over the prospect of missing the usual deluge of "wearisome reading matter," but adds a valuable suggestion for the consideration of the government. Uncle Sam keeps right on flooding the public with matter of doubtful interest. While Uncle is trying to squeeze a war revenue out of the postoffice department, why not stop the big leak due to the congressional franking privilege?

At present, "any fellow in the country can receive, free of cost, an elaborate book, printed at government expense, on fine paper, well bound, and containing the great address of Congressman Plushface of Yaphank on the dedication of the monument to the inventor of the hairless bean." Why not bar the free printing and distribution of such a masterpiece and along with it all the "tons of useless rot in the shape of speeches never delivered by congressmen, dwelling on the malignant influence of the borer on the chili pepper and the national waste of shovel handles?"

CHINA.

It may be regarded as a rather high-handed procedure for two governments to agree on a policy regarding a friendly third nation, as done with regard to China. But in this case the matter could hardly have been handled otherwise. And it seems likely to result to the satisfaction of China herself.

Certainly the Chinese people have no reason for thinking, as some of them do just now, that the American people have turned from their old role of friendly helpfulness. There is more real friendliness toward China in this country today than ever before. And the Lansing-Ishii agreement seems, in letter and spirit, a proof of this friendship.

It is intended to safeguard China. It specifically provides that Japan, while engaging in legitimate business activities in China, shall respect China's political and commercial integrity and maintain the "open door" to America and other nations.

If Japan keeps her agreement, China will have small cause for complaint. Japan in the past has scrupulously kept agreements made with us, even when they lacked the binding quality of formal treaties. We have no reason for thinking that she will do otherwise in this case. When she does, it will be time for whatever action circumstances may demand on our part.

What the present arrangement amounts to is this: China is now under the protection of a sort of Asiatic Monroe Doctrine enforced by Japan, with the moral support of the United States. That policy, honestly pursued, will protect China as our Monroe Doctrine has protected Latin-American republics. China needs this safeguard because as yet she is weak and open to foreign aggression, as the little American republics were for so long. When she is able to stand alone, it will be time for her spokesmen to resent agreements made, over her head, for her advantage. And when that time comes we'll gladly stop meddling.

Americans have no joy in the "white man's burden," as regards the yellow race or any other race. We want to see every other race stand alone, strong and free, so that we can attend to our own business.

TO ATTACK PETROGRAD

Petrograd, Nov. 19.—A new army, composed of various elements from the front and the vanguard of which is said to be close to Gatchina is reported marching on Petrograd to release the city from the control of the Bolsheviks. It is commanded by Staff Captain Pavloff of the Social-Democratic workmen's party.

London, Nov. 19.—The American embassy at Petrograd, according to a Reuter dispatch, has requested that a train be provided to convey 200 members of the American colony in Petrograd to Harbin.

London, Nov. 19.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says there has been a split among the Maximalists. The ministers of the interior, agriculture and supplies have resigned, holding that the formation of a coalition socialist government is essential. Several other commissioners, the correspondent says, support their views.

Stockholm, Nov. 19.—Petrograd was quiet up to Wednesday evening, according to advices from what are regarded here as reliable sources. The railway employees are refusing to transport troops for either faction, and the food situation in the capital was becoming serious.

The correspondent talked with an American business man, the manager of a concern in Petrograd employing a large staff, who reached here after having left Petrograd on Wednesday morning.

He reported the city quiet except for the occasional killing of some military cadet or other youth whom the maddened revolutionists mistook for a cadet.

The Lenine adherents, he stated, were amply supplied with money, from German sources, he believed.

This informant agreed with all the observers with whom the correspondent had talked in the prediction that Premier Kerensky would never regain power again, even if his party should prevail.

Stockholm, Nov. 19.—The latest report to United States Minister Morris from Russia states that heavy fighting has been renewed in Petrograd, which is still controlled by the Bolsheviks, although some sections are held by Kerensky supporters.

News from southern Russia indicates activity of Kerensky, but his influence is unknown. The Bolshevik soldiers are without officers and are undisciplined. There is active trench digging around Petrograd. The plans of the democratic parties are very uncertain. All branches of the government departments are on strike. There is complete cessation of all federal and municipal work. The telegraph and telephone center has been wrecked. Maxim Gorky's paper reports that Kerensky is advancing on Petrograd with 100,000 troops, all Cossacks. The Bolshevik press claims Kerensky's force number only 5,000.

WILSON FOR UNITY OF ALLIES

Col. House Told Control of Operations Essential to Victory.

London, Nov. 19.—President Wilson has cabled to Col. Edward M. House, head of the American mission, stating emphatically that the United States government considers unity of plan and control between all the allies essential. He declares that unity must be accomplished if the United States resources are to be used to best advantage, and he requests Colonel House to help allied statesmen bring about the closest possible co-operation. The president has asked Colonel House to attend the first meeting of the supreme war council, Gen. Tasker H. Bliss will accompany him.

Longshoremen Join Strike.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 19.—The 2,600 striking railway clerks held a mass meeting and voted to continue the strike until their demands are met. All lines here are affected.

FATHER QUINN WRITES OF PRIEST'S FUNERAL

more upon the fact of him they knew and loved so well. The usual mirth and pleasantry amid such a vast throng was missing. As each one left the church it was with a feeling of sorrow and sadness. The crowd separated into groups and the passing could often hear: "He was prepared to die." An hour before the services commenced no less than 137 automobiles had arrived in town. The church was crowded. Many could not even obtain standing room. At the conclusion of the pontifical high mass, Father Burns walked to the altar railing and in clear and solemn tones spoke the words of his text: "To him who perseveres unto the end I will give the crown of life."

A Beautiful Sermon.

Father Burns showed how death was the great leveler, making all men in the final count equal. How death established a standard of values. That the true value of men was from within. That the man clothed in purple might have an impure and craven heart; while the man in the ditch might be perfect in the sight of God. He then showed how death constantly preaches to us of the uncertainty of life. How the humble tombstone on the country hillside pictures the final page in life's history.

Father Burns then spoke of the death of the priest, showing how it was practically the same as the death of others, still having its own peculiarities. This was so because of the loneliness of the priest's life, taken apart as he is, from the world; the sacrifices he has to make for the purpose of building the mystical body of Christ, the church among men.

He then passed to Father McKoon's life among the people of Harmon. He related the great work he had done in building the church and parish house and the far greater work of administering to their spiritual wants. He spoke of the dead priest's relations to the people and especially to the children. In his works he persevered unto the end. Father Burns finally stated that the funeral of the priest is especially sad because he is so soon forgotten. He asked the people to pray for their dead pastor and closed with the words of his text.

At the conclusion of the services, dinner was served to the visiting priests by the women of the parish, and shortly before 2 o'clock the priests assembled in the sacristy and the Benediculus was intoned. The priests preceded the body down the middle aisle and at the door six of them lifted the casket and carried it to the hearse. At 2 o'clock the journey to Dixon was begun. The procession was two miles in length. After arriving in Dixon the body was placed in a steel chest and placed aboard the 4:11 train for Chicago, when it was shipped to Mt. Carmel, Conn. Fathers Conley, Flanagan, and O'Rourke accompanied the remains.

Father McKoon's life might be summed up briefly in these words: He was honest, manly, kind, sincere and sympathetic. He did the work of a priest, the nobility of all work, and did it well, persevering to the end.

The Largest Nests.

The mound-shaped nests of the jungle fowls of Australia, in which the eggs are hatched by the heat of the decomposing vegetation, are sometimes 15 feet high and 150 feet in circumference. They are believed to be the largest nests of any bird creature.

TEUTONS DRIVEN BACK BY LATINS IN FAGARE ZONE

Rome, Nov. 19.—Further attempts by the enemy to force crossings of the Piave river were frustrated by the Italian troops, and in a brilliant counter-attack the Austro-German forces, which previously had gained a footing on the west bank, in the Fagare zone, were completely swept out of this area, the war office announced.

The Austro-German forces, hemmed in at the Zenson loop, tried to break out, but were repulsed with heavy losses and ultimately driven further back into the loop.

The Italian line on the Asiago plateau is withstanding extremely violent attacks, the defensive units displaying brilliancy in their resistance and in successful counter-attacks.

Four Attacks Broken.

The text of the official statement reads: "On the Asiago plateau on the night of November 16-17 the enemy, instigating upon his attempt to force our line from Monte Sessanel to Monte Castlegombergo, attacked in the direction of Monte Zomo, east of Gallio. The attack, repeated four times with extreme violence, was completely broken up by the gallant Liguria brigade. More to the north, in the direction of Casera and Meletta d'Avanti, our parties of the Perugia brigade retook with great courage some advance elements lost during the previous days, capturing about 100 prisoners.

"Between the Brenta and the Piave the enemy pressure has been increasing since the evening of the 10th. The masses of the enemy obliged our troops at some points not to prolong their defense at some advanced positions, which have been abandoned in an orderly withdrawal after fierce resistance and brilliant counter-attacks. North of Quero the Como brigade has again shown its valor.

"Yesterday along the Piave parties of the Caserta brigade, together with elements of other units, in an irresistible advance completely swept the enemy from the Fagare zone. The Spinole brigade repulsed with great loss for the enemy an attack attempted by the troops closed in at Zenson, driving them further back into the loop of the river. Attempts to cross the river carried out at other places were promptly frustrated.

"On the right bank of the Piave during November 16 and 17 a total of 51 officers, 1,212 men and 27 machine guns were captured."

Berlin Denies Losses.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—The Italians are counter-attacking heavily in the hill district northeast of Asiago. Army headquarters announced that the enemy attacks, launched against heights which had been taken from the Italians, were fruitless and costly to the attacking forces.

Italians to Take Offensive.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 19.—The battle of the Piave river, as it will be known, now has developed to a stage where the enemy's first attempts to make a breach in the Italian lines have failed. One hears talk in high quarters that if the Piave line holds another few days the tide will be turned, as its successful defense through six fearful days has established that the enemy has his limitations.

Thus far, nothing beyond battalions have crossed the river, and no corps or brigade, much less division, has passed the deadline.

It is because the Piave has resisted so well that the enemy now is turning his attention to the north and trying to make a breach there, which he failed to make on the Piave.

This is the situation after one of the most trying weeks Italy has ever known. It makes the whole country breathe easier and await with serenity, almost confidence, those crucial days still ahead.

Desolation by Flood.

A trusted man was sent by the correspondent in an automobile to the lower Piave to inspect the inundated district, and he has returned with details of the fearful scene of desolation made by the release of flood waters.

What was a smiling farmland ten days ago now is transformed into a vast sheet of water stretching for miles.

The extent of water interposes an impassable defense to any advance of the enemy in that quarter, and under this sheet of water is soft mud, now soaked to a quicksand consistency, about six feet deep, making it impossible for enemy artillery or horses to enter without sinking. The first enemy party that got across has been forced back and now is held at bay by the flood.

BRITISH WIN JAFFA

Army in Palestine Captures Ancient City From Turks.

Ottoman Forces Continue Retreat Before Mounted Troops—British Gain in Balkans.

Rome, Nov. 19.—The belief is strongly held at the Vatican that the Turkish crescent no longer flies over the Holy Land. The pope is eagerly awaiting confirmation of news to that effect which has been received. He considers the recovery of the Holy Land one of the greatest triumphs of Christianity.

London, Nov. 19.—The City of Jaffa, on the Mediterranean coast, was taken possession of by the British army in Palestine. The Turks, who apparently are continuing their withdrawal northward, offered no opposition.

The text of the official statement making this announcement reads:

"Jaffa was occupied by Australian and New Zealand mounted troops without opposition. The enemy appears to be continuing his retirement to the north."

London, Nov. 19.—Raiding operations by the British in Macedonia are announced in an official statement from Saloniki, which reads:

"Our troops carried out a successful raid on a wood southwest of Akindzili, northeast of Lake Doiran. Several prisoners were brought back and casualties inflicted upon the enemy. No other events are reported. Bad weather has hampered operations during the last week."

Berlin, Nov. 19.—The official report of military operations in Macedonia say that north of Lake Doiran Bulgarian outposts repulsed the attack of a British battalion.

The intensity of the tone obtained from a phonograph can be varied by a recently patented needle mounting provided with a counterweight to regulate its pressure.

Near Revedoli, an Italian marine battalion repulsed on Saturday a rush made by an Austrian storming party and Italian torpedo-boats off Porto Di Corbelluzzo drove off an attack of an Austrian torpedo fleet.

The Boy Scouts of troop No. 1 held a social meeting Friday evening in the basement of the First Baptist church. It was announced that this one was the first of a series for the winter, one to be held each month, in addition to a hike or outdoor meeting occasionally.

Miss Erminie Broadstone of Chicago, who spoke for the Home Missionary society in the afternoon, was invited to talk to the boys, and she told the beautiful story of friendship between Jonathan and David. Then she made an appeal, in behalf of the children of foreign birth who have foreign parents.

After her excellent speech the boys played a number of games, then they enjoyed the refreshments.

Miss Erminie Broadstone, district secretary of the Women's Home Missionary society, delivered a missionary address before the women of the First Baptist church at the Annis home, 217 E. Fellows street, Friday afternoon. Miss Broadstone is a speaker of unusual ability and the local members are congratulating themselves on having secured her. She recently resigned her position with the Y. W. C. A. at Portsmouth, O., to become district secretary of the W. H. M. S.

She made it plain that a tremendous responsibility rests upon the people of the United States. The evangelization of the city with its teeming population of foreigners is a task big enough to engage our best efforts.

She then called our attention to the neglected classes in our country that need special care. The challenge of 10,000,000 colored people is a proposition formidable enough to give all serious thought when we consider that they are crowding so rapidly our northern states.

We were then asked to consider the Orientals, with a population of more than 177,000 in our American cities, people from India, Japan, with all the complex problems their presence means.

There are also the Indians, with more than 46,000 still untouched by the gospel; this is a fruitful field for missionary work.

Miss Broadstone suggested several ways by which this country may be made safe for democracy.

1. By helping arouse the interest of every Baptist woman in the missionary work of the church.
2. By our gifts; the Red Cross Y. M. C. A., Liberty Loans are all making their appeal and should be met, but greater than all these is the task of the church which must be put first.

3. But most of all we need prayer. We need your most prayerful and enthusiastic support.

Preceding the address, Mrs. J. L. Frost led a devotional meeting which was followed by Mrs. Lee Read singing a beautiful solo.

MAN TROUBLED FOR TWO YEARS.

Men and women should not suffer from backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints and swollen, sore muscles, when relief can be easily had. James McCreary, Berrien Center, Mich., says he was troubled with kidney and bladder trouble for two years; would have to get up several times during the night and had pains across his kidneys. He used several kinds of medicine without relief, but Foley Kidney Pills cured him. Many such letters come every day from all parts of the country.—Sold everywhere.

FOUND ANSWER IN HIS SLEEP.

Mathematical students will be interested in the experience of the Marquess de Cordocet, who published a volume on the integral calculus at the age of twenty-two. A problem had been submitted to him which, try as he might, he could not solve. To use a colloquialism, he "went to sleep on it," and successfully obtained the answer, which he remembered on waking.

AMUSEMENTS

AT PRINCESS THEATER.

Plot and counter plot, exciting situations, smashing climaxes, signalize "The Lad and the Lion," a Selig Red Seal play coming to the Princess theater tonight. Vivian Reed, the girl-with-the-million-dollar-smile; Al W. Filson, Charles LeMoine, Gertrude Oakman and others, enact a drama of love and of adventure afloat and ashore. Edgar Rice Burroughs wrote the story, which is said to be his best since "Tarzan of the Apes." A gigantic African lion furnishes some of the thrills in the play. There is beautiful photography and scenery is true to the proper atmosphere.

FOUR DEAD IN SWISS RIOTS

Mobs Attack Jail and Munition Plant at Zurich.

Paris, Nov. 19.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Zurich, Switzerland, referring to the pacifist manifestation of Friday says:

"Disorders of increased gravity broke out again. Two thousand persons assembled in the Place Helvétique and then marched, singing 'The Internationale,' to the prison where were confined those persons arrested during the riots of Friday night. The blinds and windows of the prison were smashed and the police charged the mob with drawn sabers.

"Four persons were killed and many hurt. A machine gun brought the trouble to an end at one o'clock in the morning."

Other dispatches from Zurich and Geneva say the disorders at Zurich began at a meeting which was addressed by two pacifists, Dastwyler and Rotter, their theme being the Russian revolution. The orators called on their hearers to sustain the pacifist movement by refusing service in and supplies for the Swiss army.

Later the proposal was made to proceed to a factory producing munitions for Germany. The mob began breaking windows in the factory. Then the crowd went to another factory and it was decided to close this concern after a conference had been held with the two pacifist delegates.

M'CORMICK TELLS OF OUR RESPONSIBILITY

they made a seemingly successful drive into Italy. If the German command hoped for a true military success, certainly they did not believe that they would achieve it. The real object of their political foray into Venetia was partly to make camouflage on a grand scale to conceal their steady losses from Verdun to Pashendale, and partly to provoke revolution in Italy.

While I was in the now conquered Italian territory a little while ago the Italian command expected an attack, in the neighborhood of Asolo. The Italians were under gunned, neither had they enough ammunition. The margin of subsistence in the country is so narrow that it must affect the morale of the population. But even so the Italians would not have been driven back so far as they were if two or three divisions, holding an almost impregnable point, debauched by the excellent spy system of Germany, had not thrown down their arms. The Italians had defeated the Austrians. It was German divisions with artillery from the eastern and western fronts which restored the morale of the Austro-Hungarians and themselves led the successful attack.

The French and British have a moderate preponderance in guns and man for man they outfight the Germans.

All of the German class of next years boys of seventeen are in the army and many of sixteen, whose tear-stained faces among the prisoners wrench the hearts of the Tommies and the Poilus, who show them a shy and tender clumsy kindness. Plainly the resources in men and material are running low. While there are still excellent German divisions in Flanders, there was an appreciable diminution in the morale and physical quality of the German troops on the British and French fronts during the ten weeks I was in Europe. Germany, everywhere had lost the offensive. At the battle of the Chemin des Dames, which was the greatest artillery bombardment the French had ever made, I had the good fortune to witness a perfect operation. The German batteries were so drenched with fire that they were unable to reply. With almost mathematical exactness, the French took the terrain, which they had planned to take weeks before. Hundreds of miles of track, scores of trainloads of ammunition, hundreds and hundreds of heavy guns were employed to wreck the enemy defenses, to overwhelm and kill the enemy before the advance was made, so, at last, when the infantry went forward they did so with unbelievably small losses. There I witnessed the demonstration of what I had learned from the lips of the most distinguished of the French generals during my wanderings along the front. This is an artillery, an industrial war. That must not be forgotten. Shipping to be sure is necessary before anything else, because vessels must carry to France the engines of destruction, but above all heavy guns are necessary—heavy guns, with obvious complement of air craft and rail transportation, but heavy guns and still more heavy guns; twenty-five thousand cannon to be made in American factories and shipped to France before March 1, 1919. Time is the essence of victory and great guns offer the only means by which it can be won. The more great guns the fewer lives lost; the more great guns the surer the victory; the more great guns the smaller the price we shall pay for our present unrequitedness.

he war will be decided not on the Meuse or the Rhine, but in Washington, and by the furnaces of America.

I very much admire Lord Northcliffe, but in his eagerness to shock Britain to further efforts, he has painted a partial picture of American effort which if it be taken as a faithful reflection of the whole is likely to endanger our common cause. This war must be won, if we are to win it, by the manufacture in America of thousands of engines of war. Men can not win the war. The splendid little American army which has already crossed the seas rendered a great service when the echo of the first American feet upon the soil of France carried to every home which has sacrificed (and almost all French homes have sacrificed) the promise that strength and still more the industrial genius of America would bring succor to France.

France is fighting with heroic and dogged courage. Her steady, thoughtful soldiers are ready to spend their blood and to die in the belief that America will forge the weapons to win the war. They must not be mistaken. One of the greatest French generals, perhaps the greatest, with the burden of the long front upon his shoulders said to me: "Thank God for your little army. It buoyed our falling hopes but its present growth costs us material. Send us cannon and ammunition, now and more of them lest there be none of us left when you really get here."

We can not hope to have a vast army in France next year. But America whose furnaces can forge as much steel as the furnaces of all Europe, can produce the cannon—25,000 cannon.

I say respectfully but very earnestly that to make that contribution to victory; to make guns that Ives may be saved, we must have greater coordination of effort than we now have. We must have more powerful direction, greater unity of effort, a true war council such as does not exist in Washington, a council of men who, irrespective of faction and party represent in the greatest degree the energy and the genius of America. We must bend all our energies to make the greatest industrial effort in time. It will be fruitless if we are ready—too late.

DIXON VICTORIOUS AT SPRING VALLEY

turning the ball for a touchdown on a 55 yard run. Spring Valley missed kicking goal. Score: Dixon, 7; Spring Valley, 6. The quarter ended with the ball in Spring Valley's possession on her 20 yard line.

Second Quarter. With the ball in her possession, Spring Valley lost on a fumble on her 20 yard line and Altman got the pigskin. Schrock gained 10 yards on a pass, but immediately Hess was thrown for a 7 yard loss. Dixon punted and immediately regained the ball on a fumble, only to be held for downs. Spring Valley was charitable, however, and fumbled, Flemming falling on the pill. A series of line bucks sent Schuler over for Dixon's second touchdown, and he kicked goal. The score: Dixon, 14; Spring Valley, 6.

Dixon kicked off to Spring Valley and the Bureau county boys returned the ball to the 30 yard line by a series of end runs. A drop kick from the 30 yard line failed and the half ended with Dixon holding the ball on the 20 yard line.

Third Quarter. Dixon kicked off and Spring Valley advanced 10 yards on end runs, but lost on a fumble. Schofield getting the ball, Hess shot around end for 20 yards and Rynearson plunged thru the line for 13 yards. Schuler then being sent over for another touchdown, on which he kicked goal. Score: Dixon, 21; Spring Valley, 6.

On the kickoff Spring Valley returned the ball to the 30 yard line on a pass, but fumbled again and Schofield was Johnny-on-the-spot to grab it. Spring Valley held Dixon for downs and the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter. Spring Valley gained on passes after the kickoff and was marching steadily down the field when Schrock intercepted a pass, and by a series of line bucks Schuler was again sent over for the final touchdown and kicked goal. Score: Dixon, 28; Spring Valley, 6.
